These Rules of Procedure are intended to be consistent with the Governing Regulations and the Administrative Regulations of the University of Kentucky, the Rules of the University Senate, and the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and of the United States of America. In the event that these Rules of Procedure are inconsistent or contrary to the above-mentioned regulations and laws, then those regulations and laws prevail.

Rules of all departments within the college shall be congruent with these Rules of Procedure.

I. COLLEGE ADMINISTRATION

A. The Dean is the chief administrative officer of the college and is responsible for the enforcement of the Governing Regulations, the Administrative Regulations, the University Senate Rules, Rules of the Graduate Faculty, and the rules of the college faculty. The dean is authorized to establish and enforce such policies and procedures as are attendant to the administrative management of the operations of the college.

The dean is the chair of the college faculty and an ex officio member of all college committees. The dean is charged with overseeing the educational work of the college and its efficient conduct and management in all matters not specifically charged elsewhere (Governing Regulation VII). The dean is responsible for the implementation of the curricula of the college, for ensuring through the faculty the quality of instruction given therein, for the assignment of duties to all personnel, and for the service provided by the faculty of the college, individually and as a whole. The dean shall review faculty performance evaluations submitted by the department chairs and shall be responsible for recommendations on salaries, salary changes, appointments, reappointments, terminal appointments, post-retirement appointments, promotions, and granting of tenure and decisions not to reappoint for members of the college or for ultimate action thereon when such authority has been delegated by the President or the Provost.

The dean shall submit the budget request for the college and administer the budget when it is approved. The President or Provost may delegate further administrative responsibilities to the dean.

In connection with the above administrative functions, the dean shall seek the advice of the faculty of the college: 1) individually, 2) as a whole, 3) through the elected college faculty council, or 4) through the faculty advisory committees.

The dean shall speak for the college. In the event that the dean believes it necessary to depart from recommendations of the college faculty, the dean shall communicate the college faculty's recommendation as well as the dean's recommendation, stating reasons for differing from the college faculty's opinion, and notify the college faculty of such action.

The department chair is responsible for the periodic evaluation of department members by procedures and criteria established by the University, the college, and the department faculty.

B. Department Chairs lead the department faculty in its development of policies on such matters as academic requirements, courses of study, class schedules, graduate and research programs, and service functions. The chair presides at all department-wide meetings, except as the chair may delegate this function, and is an ex officio member of all department committees. The chair has administrative responsibility for implementing the department’s policies and programs within the limits established by the Governing Regulations, the Administrative Regulations, the University Senate Rules, Rules of the Graduate Faculty, and the rules of the college.

The department chair is responsible for recommendations on the appointment of new faculty employees of the department, promotions, reappointments, terminal appointments, post-retirement appointments, the granting of tenure, and decisions not to reappoint.

The department chair submits the budget request for the department and administers the budget after its approval. The chair also is responsible for making recommendations on salaries, salary changes, and distribution of effort.

In connection with the above major administrative functions, the chair shall seek the advice of members of the department individually or as a group, or of advisory committees that the chair may appoint. Staff employees shall be consulted by the chair, when appropriate, in the development of administrative policies and on decisions that directly affect staff employees.

The chair shall speak for the department. In the event that the chair believes it necessary to depart from the opinion of the department faculty, the chair shall communicate the department faculty’s opinion as well as the chair’s recommendation, stating reasons for differing from the department faculty’s opinion, and notify the department faculty of such action.

II. FACULTY

A. Functions: The College of Agriculture, Food and Environment faculty shall:
   1. Determine the educational policies and establish the instructional, research, and service goals of the college within the limits established by the policies and rules of the University Senate and the Governing Regulations of the University of Kentucky.
   2. Make appropriate recommendations to the University Senate and to central administrative officers of the University.
   3. Carry out its functions through standing committees and/or councils within the college, but through a majority vote the faculty in attendance at a meeting of the faculty as called by the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment Faculty Council (CAFE FC) shall have the authority to revise or revoke any actions taken by the standing committees and/or councils of the college.

B. Ethics: The College of Agriculture, Food and Environment faculty shall adhere to administrative and governing regulations regarding ethical principles and code of conduct (GR XIV) and research misconduct (AR 7:1).

C. Composition: Faculty employees of the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment, as defined by Human Resources Policy and Procedure 4.0, are tenured faculty, untenured faculty who hold an academic rank of instructor, lecturer, assistant professor, associate professor, professor in a title series or an equivalent faculty rank in the librarian series and whose primary (i.e., more than 50%) assignments are in teaching, research, and/or public service. Members of the University Faculty are regular, full-time faculty employees who are members of a College Faculty. See University Senate Rules. Faculties of colleges are defined in GR VII.

D. Voting:
   1. See Attachment F for faculty nomination and voting privilege information.
   2. The CAFE FC may extend voting privileges at its discretion to other persons assigned to the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment, within the provisions of the Governing Regulations, Administrative Regulations and University Senate Rules.

E. College Faculty Meetings: Faculty meetings shall be conducted according to Robert’s Rules of Order. A quorum for College Faculty meetings shall consist of 50% plus one of the voting members of the College Faculty.

F. Regular meetings: The dean and associate deans shall meet spring semester and fall semester with the faculty of the College to exchange information and answer questions. The CAFE FC shall schedule these meetings.

G. Special meetings:
   1. May be called by the president of the University, provost, dean of the college, or at the request of the CAFE FC.
2. The CAFE FC shall be obligated to call a faculty meeting if requested by 20 voting members of the faculty.

H. Governance:
1. The chair of the CAFE FC or another CAFE FC member designated by the chair shall preside over college faculty meetings called by the CAFE FC.
2. The dean of the college or a member of the faculty designated by the dean shall preside over the college faculty meetings called by the dean.

I. Notification:
1. An officer of the CAFE FC shall send electronic notification of faculty meetings two weeks in advance (or earlier) of the meeting date to the college faculty and administration.
2. The secretary of the CAFE FC shall record and post minutes of faculty meetings to the CAFE FC Web site following their approval.

J. College Committees:
1. CAFE FC: The CAFE FC shall conduct its meetings according to Robert’s Rules of Order, but shall be permitted to suspend those Rules by majority vote when appropriate. At the first meeting of the new term year (or the last meeting of the prior term year), the CAFE FC elects from among its members a chair, vice chair, and secretary for the year.
   a. Composition: The CAFE FC shall have ten members. No department shall have more than one member elected per election, not to exceed two members on the council at any one time. The dean of the college serves as an ex officio member of the council, without voting privileges. The associate deans, assistant deans, school director, department chairs, and division directors shall not be eligible to serve as members of the CAFE FC, but may nominate candidates and vote in CAFE FC elections. A quorum for CAFE FC meetings shall consist of 50% plus one of the voting members of the Faculty Council.
   b. Election: Members shall be chosen by vote of the college faculty in an annual election. See Attachment F for faculty nomination and voting privileges.
   c. Term of Membership: Members shall be elected to staggered three-year terms beginning on May 1 and ending on April 30. At any joint meetings held after May 1, only the newly-elected members whose terms begin May 1 and continuing members shall vote. Election is held prior to the end of the spring semester.
   d. Responsibilities:
      i. The CAFE FC shall represent the college faculty to the administration on matters of collective interest, problems, and professional well-being and serves as the faculty advisory committee for the college.
      ii. The CAFE FC shall consider matters that need to be brought before the faculty, make recommendations, and, when appropriate, call for action by the entire faculty.
      iii. The CAFE FC shall serve as a liaison between the faculty and the dean and provide a representative opinion or recommendation on matters brought before the council. To facilitate that liaison role, the council will schedule fall semester and spring semester meetings with the dean, associate deans, College of Agriculture, Food and Environment University Senators, and chair of the college Staff Council.
      iv. The CAFE FC shall provide input to the dean on matters of procedure and policy regarding faculty appointments, promotions, reappointments, terminal appointments, post-retirement appointments, granting tenure, and decisions not to reappoint.
      v. The CAFE FC shall advise the dean on the appointment of members of the faculty to the College Faculty Appeals Committee and the College Advisory Committee on Appointment, Promotion and Tenure. The council is responsible for composing a list of nominees for each of these committees. Each list shall include names of at least one tenured faculty member from each department; no individual may appear on both lists. Nominees should reflect the diversity of the faculty appointments in the college (e.g., research, teaching, extension, special title series, etc.).

vi. The CAFE FC shall seek faculty opinion and, where appropriate, shall speak on behalf of the faculty. For matters where full faculty action is warranted, the council shall make recommendations to the faculty, but ultimate action shall depend upon full faculty action.

vii. CAFE FC Election Procedures: Election of members of the CAFE FC shall be by electronic Web-based ballots during the spring semester. The chair of the CAFE FC shall solicit nominations from the personnel listed by the dean of the college under the categories identified as having nominating privileges (see Attachment F). Voting procedures follow those of the University Senate Rules, 1.2.2. All votes shall be decided by a majority of those voting.

viii. The CAFE FC shall respond to requests from the University Senate for recommendations for nominees for committees and task forces.

e. The CAFE FC shall conduct elections for representatives to the University Senate, as follows:

i. Elections for College of Agriculture, Food and Environment representatives to the University Senate shall be conducted in the spring semester.

ii. All qualified faculty in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment, as defined by Attachment G, may nominate individuals equal to the number of open seats to serve three-year terms on the University Senate.

iii. Those eligible for nomination include all indicated in Attachment F except current senators with continuing terms, retiring senators who have served two consecutive terms, and those holding administrative appointments at the rank of department chair or higher, or have 50 percent or more effort (DOE) in an administrative assignment.

iv. The nominations will be solicited via e-mail from the members of the college faculty by the chair of the CAFE FC.

v. There will be a one-week minimum time frame for open nominations from issue of initial e-mail notification by the Chair of the CAFE FC to close of nominations.

vi. The number of nominees will minimally be twice the number of open University Senate seats.

vii. To determine the nominees’ willingness and availability to serve, the chair of the CAFE FC will contact nominees.

viii. Once final ballot nominees are determined, all eligible faculty members will receive a notification via e-mail from the chair of the CAFE FC opening the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment election for the University Senate. Secret ballots will be cast electronically via a Web form with a one-week minimum window for voting. Votes will be tallied electronically. Each voter may vote for nominees on their ballot, up to the number of open senate seats. Ballots may only be cast once per eligible voting member.

ix. Results will be given to the chair of the CAFE FC who will report them to the entire faculty in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment and to the chair of the Senate Council.

2. Faculty Appeals Committee:

a. Composition: This committee shall be composed of eight tenured faculty members appointed by the dean from a list of nominees submitted to the dean by the CAFE FC.

b. Term of Membership: Members shall be appointed to the Faculty Appeals Committee by the dean to three calendar year terms, with half of the membership chosen each year in order that the terms are staggered. Members may not serve consecutive terms.

c. Responsibility: Five members of the Faculty Appeals Committee shall hear appeals of performance review ratings and advise the dean on appeals decisions. The dean shall inform the committee in writing of the final decision on all appeals brought before the committee.

d. A faculty member cannot serve on the college Appeals Committee and the APT Committee at the same time.

3. College Advisory Committee on Appointment, Promotion and Tenure (APT Committee):
   a. Composition: This committee shall be composed of 12 tenured faculty members appointed by the dean from a list of nominees submitted to the dean by the CAFE FC.
   b. Term of Membership: Members shall be appointed to the Appointment, Promotion and Tenure Committee by the dean to two-year terms starting July 1. Members may not serve consecutive terms.
   c. Responsibility: The Appointment, Promotion and Tenure Committee shall advise the Dean on faculty personnel actions involving initial appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, promotion, and the granting of tenure. This committee will also be consulted by the Dean regarding decisions for terminal reappointment or non-reappointment.
   d. A faculty member cannot serve on the college APT Committee and the college Appeals Committee at the same time.

4. College Curriculum and Education Policy Committee:
   a. The Curriculum and Education Policy Committee serves as an advisory group to the dean, departments, and faculty regarding curriculum and education policy issues for the college. It is charged with the authority to make decisions on behalf of the faculty in approving curricular proposals and forwarding those proposals to the Office of Senate Council for final approval, or disapproving curricular proposals and sending those proposals back to the originating unit for further consideration. The dean or his or her designee forwards these approved proposals to the appropriate office.
   b. Composition of the Committee: The committee consists of two subcommittees, one which focuses on undergraduate-level curricular issues and the other which focuses on graduate-level curricular issues. Membership on each subcommittee for any given academic year will consist of approximately two-thirds of the number of Directors of Undergraduate Studies (DUSs) for the undergraduate subcommittee, or Directors of Graduate Studies (DGSs) for the graduate subcommittee currently active in the college. Rotations will be set up such that members of those subcommittees serve two-year terms, staggered so that half of the subcommittees are returning faculty and half are new faculty. One student member (voting) will be selected for each subcommittee by the associate dean for instruction based on recommendations received from all college DUSs (undergraduate subcommittee) or all college DGSs (graduate subcommittee) at the start of each academic year. The associate dean for research will be consulted on appointment of the student for the graduate subcommittee. Key staff members from the Center for Student Success (with curricular roles) will also be members of both subcommittees (ex officio, non-voting).
   c. Functions of the Committee are to:
      i. Act to approve or disapprove, on behalf of the faculty of the college, all curriculum proposals (new course and programs, revised courses and programs, suspension or deletion of programs, and deletion of courses) submitted by departmental or interdisciplinary faculty.
      ii. Review and make recommendations on the academic requirements of the college, on programs, including departmental, interdepartmental, and interdisciplinary programs; and on all other issues of educational policy, for transmission to the faculty or the departments.
iii. Initiate new academic policies and procedures for the college as appropriate, for recommendation to the college.

iv. Apprise the administration on educational policy issues and actions brought to it by the administration.

v. Advise the administration on the formation of ad hoc committees to recommend and evaluate educational policy issues of importance to the college.

d. Committee Governance:
   i. The Center for Student Success will coordinate all proposals submitted to the college on behalf of the committee. This office will also be responsible for recording minutes at each meeting and ensuring that those minutes are distributed to the committee for review and approval at the next scheduled meeting.

   ii. All decisions made by subcommittees must be approved by a majority of the members present at the meeting. A quorum for purposes of official voting shall consist of one more than half of the voting members, and include at least one more than half of the faculty members who are not ex officio members. All meetings of the committee are open to any faculty or staff member or student representative in the college.

e. Curriculum Procedures: Curriculum proposals originating from departments or interdisciplinary programs will be submitted to the Center for Student Success. Faculty from submitting departments will be expected to attend the committee meeting to explain their proposals. All proposals that are approved will be sent to the appropriate university council for further deliberation. Proposals that are not approved will be returned to the originating unit with an explanation for the denial. The Center for Student Success will update the committee on subsequent actions by university councils. For more detail on procedures and to locate the necessary forms, refer to the latest revision of the University Senate Council’s website. Agendas for each curriculum committee meeting, along with curricular materials and meeting minutes, will be circulated to both active and inactive DUS's and DGS's, in order to ensure that all programs are informed about curricular proposals and approvals.

f. Meetings: Meetings of the committee will be regularly scheduled during each academic term. The committee will determine the frequency of the meetings, but meetings will typically be scheduled on a biweekly basis. Additional meetings may be called by the chairperson or at the request of another member. Summer meetings may be convened as necessary.

III. COLLEGE UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT COUNCIL

A. Composition and How Chosen:

1. All of the officers of the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment Student Council are elected by the undergraduate student body of the college. If for any reason the president or the president elect cannot serve a term or complete a term, the vice president will fill or complete the term.

2. The president or an elected representative of each university-registered student organization within the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment serves as a voting representative on the council.

3. A minimum of twelve at-large representatives, three from each of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes are elected by the college student body.

4. The College of Agriculture, Food and Environment student senator for the Student Government Association serves as a voting member of the council.

5. One staff advisor shall be appointed by the Associate Dean for Instruction, Center for Student Success.
B. Term of Membership: One academic year. President Elect will continue into the role of president after his or her term as president elect.

C. Responsibilities:
   1. Serve as a liaison between the student body in the college and the administration of the college and the university.
   2. Promote student and faculty interactions.
   3. Recognize student and faculty scholarship and achievement.
   4. Organize and coordinate undergraduate, college-wide, student activities.
   5. Facilitate communications among all registered student organizations.
   6. Promote professional, leadership and career development activities.
   7. Promote activities to enhance the general welfare of students in the college.

IV. EDUCATIONAL POLICIES FOR GRADUATE ASSISTANTS AND UNDERGRADUATE INSTRUCTIONAL ASSISTANTS

There are graduate student assistants and undergraduate instructional assistants.

Graduate assistants are full-time graduate students and should be assigned responsibilities requiring no more than fifty percent of their time. Normally for teaching assistants this would mean service for not more than twenty hours per week. The responsibilities of research assistants will vary with the fraction of time for which they are employed; normally a full-time appointment should require no more than twenty hours per week of assignable duties.

A. Supervision of Graduate Teaching and Research Assistants: Teaching and research assistants shall be carefully supervised and mentored in their duties and responsibilities. Each department or the college, as appropriate, will assign a faculty member to directly supervise each teaching and research assistant. Supervision of teaching assistants will include, at a minimum, the following activities: Bi-monthly meetings with the supervisor, one in-class visitation per semester, and completion of the Supervisor Evaluation Checklist. Completed Supervisor Evaluation Checklists are to be maintained in the teaching assistant’s personnel file and submitted to the Graduate School dean at the end of each semester for all teaching assistants. The Graduate School has developed an online form for the Evaluation Checklist.

B. Evaluation of Graduate Teaching and Research Assistants: Instructional performance of Teaching Assistants is assessed through the Teacher Course Evaluation administered at the end of each semester. Each department shall be responsible for systematic evaluations of the performances of teaching and research assistants and the results of these evaluations shall be presented to the assistants in some formal manner.

C. Graduate Teaching and Research Assistants Orientation and In-service Training: The Graduate School holds an orientation/in-service training at the beginning of each semester for all teaching assistants. The college (or departments) holds an orientation/in-service training for all teaching and research assistants at the beginning of each academic year to inform them of their duties, rights, and responsibilities. Attendance is required for all teaching assistants.

D. Policies concerning Undergraduate Instructional Assistants were developed by the Provost’s Office in 2010 and may be seen on the provost’s website.

V. AMENDMENTS

Proposed amendments to these Rules of Procedure must be submitted to the chair of the CAFE FC. If the council decides the proposed amendment should be considered, it shall be electronically distributed a minimum of 14 days prior to voting. Proposed amendments submitted to the chair of the CAFE FC and accompanied by supporting signatures of 20 of the eligible voters, shall be distributed for consideration and vote without deliberation by the council. Ballots on proposed amendments shall be accompanied by a statement of the existing language and the proposed change or addition and the rationale for the proposed amendment.

These Rules of Procedure have been created and approved by the faculty of this college, pursuant to the authority granted by the Administrative Regulations, Governing Regulations and the University Senate Rules of the University of Kentucky. These rules do not become effective until and unless approved by the dean and provost. The dean and provost must also approve any modification to these rules before the modification takes effect. A current copy of the approved rules for this college is available on the Web sites of the Office of the Dean of the college and the Office of the Senate Council.

VI. ADMINISTRATIVE ATTACHMENTS

Attachments are supplements to the rules of procedure and are not subject to approval by the college faculty before being modified or added to this document. However, the dean does seek input from department chairs and the CAFE FC, and communicates with the faculty as a whole regarding future changes.

A. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a statement regarding Performance Review of Faculty.
B. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a statement regarding Review of Progress toward Tenure.
C. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a statement regarding Appointment, Reappointment and Terms of Chairs.
D. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a statement regarding Review of Departmental Chairs and Unit Directors.
E. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a statement regarding Guidelines for Teaching Overload and Supplemental Compensation of Faculty.
F. Attached to these Rules of Procedure is a chart defining Membership and Privileges for Nominating, Voting, and Serving as CAFE FC Representatives and University Senators.
ATTACHMENT A: PERFORMANCE REVIEW OF FACULTY

Performance reviews of faculty must be in compliance with University of Kentucky Administrative Regulations. The performance of non-tenured faculty shall be reviewed annually. The performance of tenured faculty shall be reviewed during the first year of each biennium with the rating applying for the biennium. Any tenured faculty member, upon request, shall be granted an annual review.

A primary purpose of the performance review is individual and institutional self-improvement. The performance review shall determine for each faculty member both a quantitative assessment and a qualitative judgment of the faculty member’s activities during the review period (two preceding years) in teaching and advising, research and scholarship, extension education, university and public service, and/or other appropriate activities with relative weighing based upon prior agreement pertinent to the distribution of effort among any or all of these activities.

An agreement is to be developed annually between the unit administrator and the faculty member on the distribution of effort expected of the faculty member in major activities during the succeeding year. This agreement shall be developed between the unit administrator and the faculty member based upon Rules of Procedures for that unit. The most recent Distribution of Effort Agreement form signed by the chair and the faculty member shall constitute the written agreement.

The dean, in consultation with the CAFE FC and chairs, develops the evaluation instrument or form used by the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment. The dean may seek advice from the CAFE FC about potential improvements of the instrument.

Department chairs shall utilize the advice of tenured faculty members in assessing the quality of faculty performance in each of the major areas of activity. The faculty input may be through an advisory committee, through consultation with all tenured faculty members, or through other appropriate means of faculty consultation. The chair recommends a rating to the dean and associate deans and a final rating is determined in a conference of the chair and the dean and associate deans. If the dean and the chair are unable to agree upon an individual’s performance rating, the faculty member shall be informed of the ratings of both the chair and the dean and informed that the rating of the dean is final, unless appealed. After final ratings are determined, there shall be a conference between the chair and each faculty member, focusing upon the faculty member’s performance of his or her assignment during the period of review, strengths and weaknesses, and suggestions for improvement if appropriate.

If a faculty member disagrees with the performance rating, he or she may request a conference with the dean and associate deans. In such case, the faculty member shall be invited to present additional information relating to performance at the conference involving the dean, the chair, and associate deans. A faculty member who, after a conference with the deans, still disagrees with the rating received may formally appeal to the dean. The appeal shall be heard by a Faculty Appeals Committee appointed by the dean from a list of nominees forwarded to the dean by the CAFE FC. After the hearing, the committee shall make a recommendation to the dean, and the dean shall accept or reject the recommendation and advise the faculty member of this decision. A faculty member remaining in disagreement with the decision may appeal to the provost for a hearing in accordance with procedures established by the provost.

For more information, see AR 3:10.
ATTACHMENT B: REVIEW OF PROGRESS TOWARD TENURE

Administrative Regulations (AR:3:10. B.4) require that unit administrators consult with the tenured members of the faculty regarding the progress of each non-tenured faculty member toward consideration for tenure in terms of the unit’s expectations. These discussions should occur before the end of the non-tenured faculty member’s second and fourth years, but may occur more frequently at the administrator’s discretion. The results of these discussions should be communicated to the individual non-tenured faculty member and a record of two- and four-year reviews maintained in the faculty member’s file. During the fourth year of appointment, an untenured faculty member at or below the rank of associate professor shall be formally reviewed to evaluate progress toward tenure. By an announced date, faculty members subject to the fourth-year review shall submit documentation for evaluation by the tenured faculty of the department. Documentation should include a CV, a narrative of a maximum length of four pages about his or her teaching/research/extension activities, and (as appropriate) a teaching portfolio. Following review of the documentation, each tenured faculty member shall provide a letter to the department chair identifying the individual’s strengths and weaknesses, and evaluating the individual’s progress toward promotion.

Promotion and Tenure Actions:
A recommendation to promote and/or grant tenure shall originate with the department chair and/or faculty in compliance with departmental policy. The procedures to be used in a department for preparing such a recommendation should conform to University of Kentucky Administrative Regulations and departmental rules of procedure. For each recommendation to promote and/or grant tenure, the department chair shall develop a dossier which contains items as identified in AR 2:1-1 Appendix II – Matrix of Dossier Contents, following the timetable set forth by the Provost. The department chair shall forward the completed dossier with the chair’s recommendation to the dean.

Each College of Agriculture, Food and Environment academic department has developed a Statement on Evidences of Activity related to promotion and tenure. Information about the statements also appears in AR 2:1, pages 2-3.

The college shall have an Advisory Committee on Appointment, Promotion and Tenure appointed by the dean from a list provided by the CAFE FC. There shall be no overlap with the college appeals committee. The dean shall also obtain a written recommendation from the college advisory committee whenever a lecturer, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor is considered for promotion and/or tenure. A written recommendation from the college advisory committee should also be sought for initial appointments at the ranks of associate professor or professor. Lastly, the dean shall provide the dossier to the college advisory committee, and obtain its written advice prior to making a recommendation or decision on terminal reappointments or decisions not to reappoint. For information on the Comprehensive Tenure Review, see AR 2:1-1, IV, pp. 4-5.
ATTACHMENT C: GUIDELINES FOR TERMS, APPOINTMENT, AND REAPPOINTMENT OF ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT CHAIRS

Academic chairs only: These policies and guidelines are intended to apply only to chairs of academic departments. Appointment processes for chairs and directors of non-academic departments or units in the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment will be consistent with regulations and human resource policies of the University of Kentucky. Non-academic appointment processes may or may not include formal search committees. Participation of, and consultation with, faculty and staff associated with such non-academic units will be in a format determined by the dean or college administrator to whom that chair or director will report.

Term length is six years: In most University of Kentucky colleges, chairs are appointed for four-year terms. The College of Agriculture, Food and Environment has, by university regulation GR VIII, page 3, six-year terms for chairs. The most common justification has been that leadership of outreach/service, and management of complex facilities, funds and programs demand more experience and management skills from our chairs. The Dean has the latitude to appoint chairs to terms of less than six years as needed.

No absolute limit to number of terms: University regulations indicate that chairs may be reappointed for multiple terms, but suggest that sufficient justification of the academic benefit must be presented to reappoint. Furthermore, university regulations state “Reappointment beyond the second term may occur under exceptional circumstances when it is deemed to be in the best interests of the University. This practice may vary from discipline to discipline.” The practice in this college has been to include demands of land grant and mission-specific program advancement among those “exceptional circumstances.”

Reappointment, and new appointments: Near the end of a current chair’s term, the dean or his or her designee will inform the faculty and schedule a meeting between the faculty and the college deans, in the absence of the current chair, which will include discussion of options for reappointment vs. new appointment, and an internal vs. national search.

Following the open meeting, the dean will provide an opportunity for individual comment by faculty and staff of the department, including anonymous comment.

University regulations require that the dean will appoint a search committee for either reappointments or new appointments. Typically such committees will be chaired by another chair or college administrator. Department faculty will constitute a majority of the committee members, but other faculty or staff may be appointed from outside the department. Some chair search committees in this college include a stakeholder not employed by the university. Students and staff should be included in the process.

With the search committee, the dean will review or revise the position description, and determine a search process appropriate to the circumstances. The search committee will be asked to identify candidates, including the current chair, and invited to comment on their strengths and weaknesses to the dean. They will not be asked to rank candidates if there is more than one.

The dean will negotiate an agreement with the reappointed chair or the new appointee and forward a recommendation to the Provost. This recommendation shall include written judgments solicited from at least the tenured faculty of the unit (GR VII.A.3).
ATTACHMENT D: REVIEW OF DEPARTMENT CHAIRS AND UNIT DIRECTORS

All chairs in the College are formally evaluated annually. Those who have been in their position for less than one year will not receive a formal evaluation, but should submit the materials described below. Materials should be submitted, as described below, no later than by a date specified by the dean.

A concise summary report of administrative contributions should be submitted as a PDF or Word document via e-mail. The evaluation period and the report should cover two calendar years. The report format is flexible, but should not exceed 4 pages; 2 or 3 pages are adequate in most cases. Narrative text, outlines, or bulleted lists are appropriate. Address all of the following points that are appropriate to the administrative position:

Notable achievements or advancement in the department or area: Emphasize truly significant contributions by faculty or staff; the progress of the department is in many ways the most important factor in the evaluation.
1. Significant administrative activities by the chair in support of the unit
2. New initiatives or programs led or supported
3. Major issues and challenges to which the chair and the unit have responded
4. Leadership contributions beyond the department, at the college, university or external level
5. Scholarly activity and other professional contributions by the chair
6. Future issues and challenges, planning and priorities for the department.

In accordance with GR IX and Administrative Regulations, faculty and staff are given the opportunity to participate in the review of their department chair/unit director. The result of faculty and staff input is reviewed by the dean (and/or the appropriate associate deans) and a summary is provided to the chair/director being reviewed.

The stated purpose of the evaluation of unit heads is to enhance administrative leadership and effectiveness and to promote a climate of cooperation among faculty, staff, and administration to maximize the effectiveness of the unit's execution of its mission. An important part of the evaluation process is for faculty and staff to participate in surveys that have been developed to obtain input for the evaluation of the department chair/unit director. If the evaluation process is to meet its objective of enhancing leadership and effectiveness of the unit head, it is important to have full participation of the department's staff. Confidence in the process certainly increases with high response.

For department chairs, unit directors, and administrators, performance surveys are conducted online. Respondents are able to fill out only one survey for one particular chair or administrator; however, respondents who work with multiple chairs or administrators are able to complete multiple surveys, if they choose. Strong efforts will be made to ensure that the identities of survey responders remain anonymous.
ATTACHMENT E: GUIDELINES FOR TEACHING OVERLOAD AND SUPPLEMENTAL COMPENSATION OF FACULTY

1. Unless stated otherwise, all guidelines stated below apply to 12-month faculty throughout the calendar year, and to 9-month faculty during the period August 16 through May 15.

2. Under no circumstances will faculty receive both supplemental compensation (overload) and Distribution of Effort (DOE) credit for the same teaching activity.

3. By regulation, overloads for any purpose require approval by the Dean. Instruction-related overloads will be reviewed and approved by the Department Chair or Multi-disciplinary Program Director, the Associate Dean for Instruction (ADI), and the Dean and/or his or her designee.

4. Faculty will normally not be approved for teaching overload in a degree program which their department directs, or shares direction in the case of multi-department programs. Exceptions may be made, by mutual agreement of the chair and faculty member, and approval by the ADI, for essential courses when no alternative instructors are available. Under some uncommon circumstances, Distance Learning (DL) courses may also be exempted (see below).

5. Faculty will normally be approved to teach overload outside of their department’s own programs and be eligible for supplemental compensation, with completion of an internal overload form, approval of their chair and the ADI, assuming the overload assignment is deemed not to conflict or compete with in-load (DOE) assignments.

6. Faculty teaching Distance Learning courses normally teach in-load (no supplemental compensation, with DOE credit). DL courses may be approved as overload (supplemental compensation allowed, no DOE credit) only when justified on the basis of benefits to students (e.g., access, facilitates retention and graduation) or the inability of the program to deliver a required or essential course by any other means. Such overload assignments must be reviewed and approved by the Chair, the ADI, and the Dean.

7. Faculty, including part-time instructors, teaching Science Translation and Outreach (STO) DL courses may be provided overload compensation of $1,500 per credit hour for teaching each core course, second offering, and beyond; this amount may be adjusted over time. This funding is intended to help compensate the department for instruction that is outside the department’s normal academic functions. Funding for STO DL courses taught by faculty on an overload basis is intended to compensate instructors of record. Funding for STO DL courses taught by faculty as part of their DOE (in-load) is intended to compensate the department for lost departmental teaching resources. Decisions regarding the type of assignment and expenditures of these funds are negotiated between the instructor and department chair, with the chair making the final decision.

*For CAFE FC elections, all regular, full-time faculty members and phased retirement faculty members have nominating and voting privileges with the exception of the dean and associate deans. Department chairs and others at or above the level of department chairs may not serve on the CAFE FC, but may nominate candidates and vote in elections.

Phased retirement faculty members may nominate and vote for university senators, but may not serve as university senators.

NOTES:

1. Departmental voting privileges are determined by departmental faculty and recorded in departmental rules of procedure.
2. Election of the two voting university faculty members to the Board of Trustees is explained in section 1.5.2 of the University Senate Rules.

This addendum to the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment Rules of Procedure was originally approved by the college faculty council on November 8, 2012 and revisions approved on May 27, 2015. Revisions also made in the 2019 version.
