- 1. How does this course provide for timely and appropriate interaction between students and faculty and among students? Does the course syllabus conform to University Senate Syllabus Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations?
- 2.How do you ensure that the experience for a DL student is comparable to that of a classroom-based student's experience? Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc.
- 3. How is the integrity of student work ensured? Please speak to aspects such as password-protected course portals, proctors for exams at interactive video sites; academic offense policy; etc.
- 4.Will offering this course via DL result in at least 25% or at least 50% (based on total credit hours required for completion) of a degree program being offered via any form of DL, as defined above?

If yes, which percentage, and which program(s)?

- 5. How are students taking the course via DL assured of equivalent access to student services, similar to that of a student taking the class in a traditional classroom setting?
- 6. How do course requirements ensure that students make appropriate use of learning resources?
- 7.Please explain specifically how access is provided to laboratories, facilities, and equipment appropriate to the course or program.

Current Course Report

8.How are students informed of procedures for resolving technical complaints? Does the syllabus list the entities available to offer technical help with the delivery and/or receipt of the course, such as the Information Technology Customer Service Center (http://www.uky.edu/UKIT/)?

9. Will the course be delivered via services available through the Distance Learning Program (DLP) and the Academic Technology Group (ATL)? NO

If no, explain how student enrolled in DL courses are able to use the technology employed, as well as how students will be provided with assistance in using said technology.

- 10.Does the syllabus contain all the required components? NO
- 11.I, the instructor of record, have read and understood all of the university-level statements regarding DL.

A-H 350 Contemporary Art and Visual Studies: "Global Contemporary" Art since 1989

Instructor: Jessica Santone Office Address: 201 Fine Arts Bidg

Email: Jessica.Santone@uky.edu Office phone: 859.257.1716 (please email)

Office hours: tbd

Course Description: According to the subtitle, this course examines various aspects of art and visual culture in their social, political, theoretical, and aesthetic contexts after 1965. Subtitle Description: The transnational and global circulation of images and cultural production will be addressed.

Student Learning Outcomes: After completing this course, the student will be able to:

- 1. Evaluate key challenges and problems related to the study of contemporary art history.
- 2. Use critical and theoretical vocabulary to analyze globalization and global concerns in contemporary art.
- 3. Distinguish between different historical, geographical, and political situations that have shaped global contemporary art history over the past three decades.
- 4. Read and write critically about problems related to global art.
- 5. Articulate the role of the local, including Lexington, in relation to global contemporary art.

Required Materials: Readings will be made available on Blackboard. No additional materials.

Description of Course Activities and Assignments: Course sessions include participatory lectures about select case studies and critical theories, discussions of readings, and occasional site visits to local contemporary art venues. Assignments ask students to read critically; write clear, organized prose about art; and conduct research on topics related to the course.

Course Assignments:

In-class Participation – 15 points (15%)
Site Visits and Talks – 15 points (15%)
Reading Response Papers – 40 points (40%)
Project: Lexington in the Global Art World – 30 points (30%)

Summary Description of Course Assignments:

In-class Participation – You are expected to come to class well prepared each week. Lack of preparation or regular tardiness, sleeping, talking, chatting, or texting in class will count as 1/2 absences. See Course Policies for excused absences.

Site Visits and Talks – You are expected to attend 3 events outside of the classroom during the semester. (You are encouraged to attend more.) For each event, you will write an 800-word response paper connecting your experience to course readings and themes. Response papers should be uploaded on Blackboard shortly after the event. All response papers should be printed, bound, and submitted in person on the last day of class. As a cover sheet, you will attach a short paper (maximum 2 pages) reflecting on your participation in these site visits and talks and providing evidence for your grade on the assignment.

Reading Response Papers – Four reading response papers will be required during the semester, answering specific questions in relation to specific texts assigned for class. Each paper will be 1000 words in length and will correctly cite required course readings to provide evidence for your arguments. Each paper should be accompanied by visual examples for your arguments (examples that are different from those given in texts or class discussions). Papers are worth 10 points each and must be uploaded to Blackboard by the deadlines given on the syllabus. See schedule for dates. Project: Lexington in the Global Art World

Bibliography and proposal – 10 points; Individual paper – 15 points; Presentation – 5 points Your final project seeks to address the situation of Lexington in the global art scene, providing an analysis of artists, institutions, or structures that are relevant to global contemporary issues. After proposing and preparing a bibliography for your topic, craft a coherent, well-defended argument about the relation of global and local art worlds. Each student will present their research (10 minutes) in a stimulating way in the final week of class – this presentation should not narrate the content of your paper, but should go beyond this to provide a richer, broad analysis and to engage the audience of your classmates. Final papers will be 8-10 pages, double-spaced, plus bibliography and images. More details about the final project will be discussed in class. Due at end of exam period.

Course Grading: Assignments are graded in points to the nearest 0.10 point. There are a total of 100 points to earn during the semester (plus 5 extra credit points). 1 point = 1% of your grade 90-100% = A; 80-89% = B; 70-79% = C; 60-69% = D; 0-59% = E

Final Exam Information: No final exam.

Mid-term Grade: Mid-term grades will be posted in myUK by the deadline established in the Academic Calendar (http://www.uky.edu/Registrar/AcademicCalendar.htm)

Course Policies:

Submission of Assignments: Please consult assignment description sheets on Blackboard for details about submitting assignments. Late work will be accepted at full value only in instances of excused absence (see above); contact me to make arrangements as early as possible. All other late work will be deducted 10% per calendar day and will receive zero credit after one week.

Attendance: The following situations constitute excused absences:

- 1. Significant illness/injury of the student or serious illness of a member of the student's household or immediate family.
- 2. Death of a member of the student's immediate family.
- 3. Trips for members of student organizations sponsored by an academic unit, trips for University classes, and trips for participation in intercollegiate athletic events (prior notification required).
- 4. Major religious holidays (prior notification required).
- 5. Any other absence found to fit "reasonable cause for nonattendance" by the professor.

No other absences will be excused for any reason. Verification of excused absences may be requested, so please be sure to have evidence. When feasible, notify me by email prior to an absence. Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Information regarding dates of major religious holidays may be obtained through the religious liaison, Mr. Jake Karnes (859-257-2754). Students are expected to withdraw from the class if more than 20% of the classes scheduled for the semester are missed (excused or unexcused) per university policy. THREE unexcused absences are permitted; after that, 1/2 point per absence will be deducted from your grade. Regular tardies or early departures may count as half absences and will result in corresponding loss of 1/4 point each.

Verification of Absences: Students may be asked to verify their absences in order for them to be considered excused. Senate Rule 5.2.4.2 states that faculty have the right to request "appropriate verification" when students claim an excused absence because of illness or death in the family. Appropriate notification of absences for university-related trips is required prior to the absence.

Academic Integrity: Per university policy, students shall not plagiarize, cheat, or falsify or misuse academic records. Students are expected to adhere to University policy on cheating and plagiarism in all courses. The minimum penalty for a first offense is a zero on the assignment on which the offense occurred. If the offense is considered severe or the student has other academic offenses on their record, more serious penalties, up to suspension from the university may be imposed. Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Complete information can be found at the following website: http://www.uky.edu/Ombud. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty. It is important that you review this information as all ideas borrowed from others need to be properly credited.

Part II of Student Rights and Responsibilities (available online http://www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/Code/part2.html) states that all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about the question of plagiarism involving their own work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission. When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording or anything else from another source without appropriate acknowledgement of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else's work, whether it be a published article, chapter of a book, a paper from a friend or some file, or something similar to this. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work which a student submits as his/her own, whoever that other person may be. Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student and the student alone. When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources of information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where and how he/she employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Making simple changes while leaving the organization, content and phraseology intact is plagiaristic. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain (Section 6.3.1). Please note: Any assignment you turn in may be submitted to an electronic database to check for plagiarism.

Academic Accommodations: If you have a documented disability that requires academic accommodations, please see me as soon as possible during scheduled office hours. In order to receive accommodations in this course, you must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center (Room 2, Alumni Gym, 257-2754, email address: jkarnes@email.uky.edu) for coordination of campus disability services available to students with disabilities.

Communication: It is your responsibility to notify me if you will have to miss class. Please let me know as soon as possible if you are having trouble understanding course material or struggling with an assignment. You are always welcome during my office hours. To avoid waiting, email me to schedule an appointment. If you want to meet outside of the office hours, you must schedule an appointment in advance, proposing in your email 2-3 times that you are available during the week.

Group Work and Student Collaborative Policy: On many occasions you will be asked to collaborate with others. It is expected that you treat your peers with respect and dignity; it is further expected that you do your share of the work. Major disruptions, disrespectful language, or unpreparedness for group discussions may result in dismissal from the classroom (and attendance penalty).
