Internet/Web-based: No

Interactive Video: No

Hybrid: Yes

1. How does this course provide for timely and appropriate interaction between students and faculty and among students? Does the course syllabus conform to University Senate Syllabus Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations? Yes, the course syllabus conforms to University Senate Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations. This course will be offered synchronously online through Adobe Connect or a similar platform. The instructor will be available via email, phone, and online conferencing for consultation with students outside of class meeting times.

2. How do you ensure that the experience for a DL student is comparable to that of a classroom-based student's experience? Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc. Students will engage in similar readings, research investigations, and discussions (through CANVAS and Adobe Connect) that they would experience in a classroom-based setting. Classroom goals and assessments will be similar.

3. How is the integrity of student work ensured? Please speak to aspects such as password-protected course portals, proctors for exams at interactive video sites; academic offense policy; etc. The integrity of student work is ensured by having a password-protected CANVAS site for the course. No exams are given. All written work is submitted to the instructor for grading. The academic offense policy is stated in the syllabus.

4. Will offering this course via DL result in at least 25% or at least 50% (based on total credit hours required for completion) of a degree program being offered via any form of DL, as defined above? No.

If yes, which percentage, and which program(s)? N/A

5. How are students taking the course via DL assured of equivalent access to student services, similar to that of a student taking the class in a traditional classroom setting? Information about student services as well as information for students with special needs (e.g. religious absences, etc.) is also included in the syllabus.

6. How do course requirements ensure that students make appropriate use of learning resources? Links to course readings and online research activities are provided in the course CANVAS shell. Modules for each week will be posted in the course shell.

7. Please explain specifically how access is provided to laboratories, facilities, and equipment appropriate to the course or program. Access to laboratories and equipment is not needed for this course.

8. How are students informed of procedures for resolving technical complaints? Does the syllabus list the entities available to offer technical help with the delivery and/or receipt of the course, such as the Information Technology Customer Service Center (<http://www.uky.edu/UKIT/>)? Technological requirements, technological assistance information, and Technology Customer Service Center information is listed at the beginning of the syllabus.

9. Will the course be delivered via services available through the Distance Learning Program (DLP) and the Academic Technology Group (ATL)? YES

If no, explain how student enrolled in DL courses are able to use the technology employed, as well as how students will be provided with assistance in using said technology. NA

10.Does the syllabus contain all the required components? YES

11.I, the instructor of record, have read and understood all of the university-level statements regarding DL.

Course Description

This course represents advanced study of the Fall Semester course (622). Students will continue to engage in sensitive observation and responsive teaching focusing on the hardest to teach children. Students will refine and deepen their understandings of the theoretical rationales and practical applications of Reading Recovery. The Teacher Leader-in-training will have the opportunity to observe, analyze, discuss, and directly experience the role of Teacher Leader in class and assigned field experiences, while preparing to implement the Reading Recovery program within their region, university or school district.

Prerequisites: None

UK College of Education Professional Themes

This course will address the four themes of the conceptual framework for the UK professional education unit: research, reflection, learning, and leading. Students will be given the opportunity to review, analyze, discuss, and apply research from diverse perspectives in education, including professional scholarship and practitioner inquiry, in order to reflect on their own practices as they study, observe, and practice in P-12 school and university classrooms. Reflection will also be integrated into students' learning opportunities through the production of written essays and analyses of observation and teaching experiences to help students take advantage of the analytical and problem-solving skills that comprise critical professional reflection on one's own teaching. This course emphasizes the commitment of the professional education unit to ensure that its graduates move into their professional lives equipped for life-long learning as educators who will be active in leading colleagues in their schools, districts, and professional organizations. The ultimate goal in addressing these four themes is to produce teacher leaders who work together to improve student learning among diverse populations and improve education in Kentucky and beyond.

Course Content

- Observing reading behaviors as a basis of instruction
- Understanding basis for the activities in a Reading Recovery lesson
- Building on strengths and keeping it easy to learn
- Teaching children to attend and use print
- Teaching for reciprocity of reading and writing
- Moving up a gradient of text difficulty in reading
- Increasing complexity in writing
- Teaching for accelerated progress
- Fostering independence and self-regulation over time
- Making decisions about children's progress and ending the intervention
- The rationales behind lesson activities and procedures
- How teaching changes over time
- Fine-tuning teaching interactions with children
- A complex theory of reading and writing processes

Course Learning Outcomes

Teacher Leaders will:

- Learn to apply the Observation Survey Summary information during Roaming Around the Known
- Demonstrate an understanding of the purposes, practices, and underlying theory for Roaming Around the Known
- Demonstrate an understanding of the purposes for writing Predictions of Progress and for using them when moving into instruction with students
- Learn to select and/or make appropriate books for each student
- Demonstrate an understanding of the purposes of each part of the RR lesson
- Record and analyze information on RR forms to promote effective teaching decisions
- Refine observation skills and respond to the student during lessons
- Demonstrate skill in teaching for "early learning gains" as appropriate for specific students
- Demonstrate skill in teaching students how words work by using magnetic letters and other appropriate teaching procedures
- Demonstrate skill by making effective teaching points during and after text reading
- Develop an understanding of the relationship between reading and writing by demonstrating skill in teaching for reciprocity
- Demonstrate skill in analyzing running records to inform instruction
- Demonstrate skill in teaching for accelerated learning
- Learn about how to discontinue students from the program
- Learn to self-assess progress in learning to teach students
- Participate actively in all behind the glass (BTG) sessions and discussions

Summary Description of Course Assignments:

1. Continue to teach 4 children daily.
2. Complete Observation Survey Summary for all students.
3. Complete Predictions of Progress for all students.
4. Keep instructional records on a daily basis to inform your teaching. Records will be collected during the semester and feedback will be given.
5. Teach 1 lesson Behind the Glass.
6. Complete in class reflections and checkpoints as assigned.
7. Tape record/video tape lesson components as assigned.
8. Be observed by Trainer as you teach students in your own setting.
9. Prepare presentations and activities for Review Week. The purpose of Review Week is to revisit the major sections of Literacy Lessons Designed for Individuals with the in-depth perspective of a Teacher Leader who will be teaching these procedures and the underlying theoretical understandings to both in-training and trained Reading Recovery teachers. This will be our time to work together and think about teaching teachers. (Directions and Section assignments will be provided in class).

Course Policies

Submission of Assignments

- All assignments must be typed or word processed.
- All assignments must be handed in on time or they will be penalized 10% each day late.
- All assignments must be in APA style (which includes a cover page).

Tentative Course Schedule

A linear listing of topics, assignment due dates, and examination dates will be provided in the first class.

Course Grading

A = Superior work that meets all criteria and shows exceptional merit and creativity (90-100%)

B = Excellent work that meets all criteria and shows effort (80-89%)

C = Adequate work which meets all criteria (70-79%)

E = Poor work (69% and below)

Mid-term grades will be posted in myUK by the deadline established in the Academic Calendar (<http://www.uky.edu/registrar/calendar>).

Final Exam Information

See Summary Description of Course Assignments above. Date, time, and location to be announced.

Course Evaluation

Grading for this course will be based on performance related to course requirements and all assignments on the syllabus for the semester. Performance will be considered on a continuum of understandings that takes place across time and on an individual basis. An important aspect of this course is ongoing communication with the UK trainer to request guidance and support as needed to achieve these requirements.

Excused Absences:

Students need to notify the professor of absences prior to class when possible. S.R. 5.2.4.2 defines the following as acceptable reasons for excused absences: (a) serious illness, (b) illness or death of family member, (c) University-related trips, (d) major religious holidays, and (e) other circumstances found to fit “reasonable cause for nonattendance” by the professor.

Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Information regarding dates of major religious holidays may be obtained through the religious liaison, Rhonda Strouse at strouse@pop.uky.edu

Students are expected to withdraw from the class if more than 20% of the classes scheduled for the semester are missed (excused or unexcused) per university policy.

Verification of Absences:

Students may be asked to verify their absences in order for them to be considered excused. Senate Rule 5.2.4.2 states that faculty have the right to request “appropriate verification” when students claim an excused absence because of illness or death in the family. Appropriate notification of absences due to university-related trips is required prior to the absence.

Academic Integrity:

Per university policy, students shall not plagiarize, cheat, or falsify or misuse academic records. Students are expected to adhere to University policy on cheating and plagiarism in all courses. The minimum penalty for a first offense is a zero on the assignment on which the offense occurred. If the offense is considered severe or the student has other academic offenses on their record, more serious penalties, up to suspension from the university may be imposed.

Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Complete information can be found at the following website: <http://www.uky.edu/Ombud>. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty. It is important that you review this information as all ideas borrowed from others need to be properly credited.

Part II of Student Rights and Responsibilities (available online <http://www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/Code/part2.html>) states that all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about the question of plagiarism involving their own work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission.

When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording or anything else from another source without appropriate acknowledgement of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else’s work, whether it be a published article, chapter of a book, a paper from a friend or some file, or something similar to this. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work which a student submits as his/her own, whoever that other person may be.

Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student, and the student alone. When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources of information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where and how he/she employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Making simple changes while leaving the organization, content and phraseology intact is plagiaristic. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain (Section 6.3.1).

Please note: Any assignment you turn in may be submitted to an electronic database to check for plagiarism.

Participation and Professionalism:

The Middle School Teacher Education program is a teacher preparation program, and as such expects you to work and to transition into the teaching profession. This entails both mature personal behavior and professional conduct based on the College of Education's Functional Skills and Dispositions (see Student Handbook at <http://education.uky.edu/AcadServ/content/student-handbook-education-programs>). These include 1) communicating appropriately and effectively, 2) demonstrating constructive attitudes, 3) demonstrating the ability to conceptualize key content, 4) interacting appropriately with diverse groups in educational settings (including colleagues and students), and 5) demonstrating a commitment to professional ethics and behavior.

Ethics Statement

This course and its participants will not tolerate discrimination, violence, or vandalism. The Middle Level Teacher Education Program is an open and affirming department for all people, including those who are subjected to racial profiling, hate crimes, heterosexism, and violence. We insist that appropriate action be taken against those who perpetrate discrimination, violence, or vandalism. The University of Kentucky is an Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity institution and affirms its dedication to non-discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, age, sexual orientation, domestic partner status, national origin, or disability in employment, programs, and services. Our commitment to non-discrimination and affirmation action embraces the entire university community including faculty, staff, and students.

All students are expected to conduct themselves in an appropriate and ethical manner during their UK classes and related field placements, as befitting students, future teachers, and ambassadors for the University of Kentucky. Any unethical behavior in class or during your field placements may result in failure for the course and/or expulsion from the Middle Level Teacher Education Program, determined on a case-by-case basis. Faculty will follow all university due process procedures in cases of academic or ethical misconduct. Please consult Dr. Rintamaa if you have questions regarding this requirement.

Accommodations due to disability:

If you have a documented disability that requires academic accommodations, please see me as soon as possible during scheduled office hours. In order to receive accommodations in this course, you must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center (Multidisciplinary Science Building, Suite 407, 257-2754, email address: DRC@uky.edu) for coordination of campus disability services available to students with disabilities.
