Course Description in UK Bulletin

ELS 621 is the second course in a two-part sequence in which action research proposed in ELS 620 is conducted. Emphasis is placed on appropriate use of data for making informed decisions about classroom and school practices. Prerequisite: Successful completion of ELS 620 or consent of instructor.

Major Course Objectives

ELS 621 continues preparing teacher leaders to develop a Participatory Action Research (PAR) project at the classroom and/or school level. Opportunities to explore, practice, and critically reflect on PAR methods and processes are an essential part of the course. Upon completion of this course, students are expected to

- Implement the PAR proposal developed in ELS 620, in collaboration with PAR team members;
- Monitor implementation of PAR interventions to improve student outcomes;
- Collect and analyze data as planned, making appropriate adjustments to implementation and monitoring as appropriate to meet project purposes;
- Reflect on data analysis, drawing conclusions in collaboration with PAR team members;
- Report on findings from all cycles of implementation;
- Use findings to identify questions for a new cycle of inquiry, informed by a mini-review of pertinent literature; and
- Reflect on lessons learned through implementation of a PAR research project.

Required Course Textbooks and Readings

Professional reading and reflection are fundamental components of this course. The first three books listed below provide the major source of course content. Additional readings related to course content or professional development may be assigned throughout the course. The fourth book is recommended to assist students with their academic writing. Students are expected to complete all reading assignments each week in order to engage actively in online and class activities.

Required Instructional Technology

ELS 621 Leading AR in School Renewal II

This course requires use of information technology: Students are expected to have regular access to a personal computer and the Internet to complete their learning activities. All Web-based activities are to be completed within designated sections of the course Blackboard, which can be accessed through <http://elearning.uky.edu>.

Integration of Syllabus with UK College of Education Conceptual Framework

This graduate course addresses the four themes within the conceptual framework of the UK College of Education: research, reflection, learning, and leading. Throughout the semester students have opportunities to review, analyze, discuss, and apply research from diverse perspectives in education, including professional scholarship and practitioner inquiry and reflect on their own practices as P-12 educators as they study, observe, and work in P-12 school and university classrooms. Reflection is integrated regularly through oral and written communication to help students hone their analytical and problem-solving skills that comprise critical professional reflection on one's own practice. This course emphasizes the commitment of the UK College of Education to ensure that its graduates continue their professional careers equipped for life-long learning as educators actively leading colleagues in their schools, districts, and professional organizations. The ultimate goal in addressing these four themes is to produce educational leaders who work together to improve student learning among diverse populations and improve education in Kentucky and beyond.

Commitment to Diversity

UK is committed to making diversity central to university policies, decisions, and practices to strengthen diversity within the Commonwealth. Efforts by a broad-based task force appointed by President Todd defined diversity as embracing difference or promoting increased knowledge regarding race/ethnicity, gender, religion, sexual orientation, disability, veteran affairs, and thought within an inclusive community. This definition of diversity values an inclusive institutional culture, academic programs, and co-curricular activities that prepare students for active, global citizenship. This commitment further allows for an educational process that fosters growth among all members of the academic community by including a wide array of talents, and recognizing the human differences are organizational strengths (University-Wide Comprehensive Diversity Plan Task Force Report, April 2005, p. 6).

Because the desired outcome is excellence in education, UK “does not practice discrimination on the basis of race/ethnicity, gender, religion, sexual orientation, or disability” (p. 6).

The College of Education supports the university-wide definition of diversity and enhances it through an expanded interpretation. This broader conceptualization of diversity includes learning exceptionalities, native languages, socioeconomic status, and life experiences often created by residing in unique geographical regions such as Appalachia. Curricula within the UK College of Education, field experiences, and membership of its faculty and student body reflect a commitment to diversity.

Leading successful P-12 schools and districts requires understanding of and sensitivity to differences among groups of people and individuals based on ethnicity, race, socioeconomic status, gender, exceptionalities, language, religion, sexual orientation, and geographical area. Hence, diversity is a theme woven throughout this graduate course, which focuses on preparing and developing principals and other educational leaders with requisite knowledge, dispositions, and skills to practice effectively the multiple responsibilities of school leadership and change agency.

UK Policies

The adopted UK academic policies apply in this course and are articulated in the Students Rights and Responsibilities Handbook and the UK Graduate Bulletin. Important policies and regulations applicable to this course include, but are not limited to, those concerning attendance, cheating and plagiarism, course withdrawal, incomplete grades, and acceptable standards of English. As the instructor, I retain absolute discretion concerning acceptance of required assignments after established due dates and reserve the right to lower grades on assignments submitted late.

Absences. The University defines acceptable reasons for absences as (a) serious illness, (b) university-related trips, (c) major religious holidays, and (d) other circumstances that the instructor finds to be “reasonable cause for nonattendance.” Because the class meets only five times, regular attendance is essential. If students must miss a scheduled class meeting, then they must notify me about the reason for the absence before it occurs. In the event of emergency absences (e.g., personal illness, major accident, death of family member), students should notify me as soon as possible, preferably through e-mail communication. Additional assignments may be required for missed class meetings.

Canceled Class. If a class meeting must be canceled due to bad weather or other unforeseen circumstances, I will make every possible effort to contact you in sufficient time to avoid an unnecessary travel.

Changes to Syllabus. I retain the right to modify this syllabus, if necessary, to meet the learning objectives of this course. Changes to this syllabus will be discussed with you and provided in writing as an addendum distributed electronically via e-mail and posted on the course Blackboard.

Go to www.research.uky.edu/gs/bulletin/bullinfo.shtml for more information about UK Policies.

Distance Learning Considerations

Collaboration with School Partners

In accordance with requirements from the Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board (EPSB) to include partners, input from the Central Kentucky Educational Cooperative (CKEC), Fayette County Public Schools (FCPS) and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) personnel are involved in the design and delivery of this course.

Standards-based Curriculum

ELS 621 is a required course for the MEd in Educational Leadership Studies designed to meet the requirements established by the Kentucky Educational Professional Standards Board (EPSB). Thus, course content is based on the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) Standards for School Leaders adopted by Kentucky in 1998 and updated in 2008.<sup>1</sup> Although ELS 621 focuses on action research, the four central, recurring themes within the original standards provides a framework for teacher leadership including:

- A Vision for Success
- A Focus on Teaching and Learning
- An Involvement of all Stakeholders
- Demonstration of Ethical Behavior (Hessel & Holloway, 2002, p. 21)<sup>2</sup>.

This course is also structured to align with these other professional standards:

Washington, DC: Author. Available at <http://www.ccsso.org/publications/details.cfm?PublicationID=365>

<sup>2</sup> Hessel, K. & Holloway, J. (2002). A framework for school leaders: Linking the ISLLC Standards to practice. Princeton, NJ: Educational Testing Service.

The advanced-level performance Kentucky Teacher Standards (KTS) are integrated into content, assignments, and assessments as noted in Regulation 16 KAR 5:0101 Section 12 and the master's redesign guidelines as adopted by the EPSB in 2007. The complete list of standards and indicators are available at <http://www.kyepsb.net/teacherprep/standards.asp>. ELS 621 addresses the following specific Kentucky Teacher Standards: KTS 1 Apply Content Knowledge; KTS 2 Design/Plan Instruction; KTS 3 Create/Maintain Learning Climate, KTS 4 Implement/Manage Instruction, KTS Assess/Communicate Learning Progress; KTS 6 Implement Technology; KTS 7 Reflect/Evaluate Teaching and Learning; KTS 8 Collaborate Others; KTS 9 Evaluate Teaching/Implement Professional Development; and KTS 10 Provide Leadership.

The Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board adopted the Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education (IECE) *New Teacher Standards for Preparation and Certification: Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education Birth to Primary and now requires use of the 2003 revised version. The IECE standards are closely aligned with KTS and integrated as appropriate into ELS 621 content, assignments, and assessments. A copy of the revised standards is available at <http://www.kyepsb.net/teacherprep/iecestandards.asp>

The International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) has developed a set of standards and performance indicators for administrators, teachers and students<sup>3</sup>. Courses in the MEd in Educational Leadership Studies, however, focus specifically those for administrators as a means to inform and guide teachers when collaborating with their peers and principals to assure school-wide student learning. The National Educational Technology Standards for Administrators (NETS-A) are available at http://www.iste.org/Content/NavigationMenu/NETS/ForAdministrators/2009Standards/NETS-A\_2009.pdf

Quality of Student Work

Unless specified otherwise, all papers submitted to me must be presented in the writing style and format described in the fifth edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association<sup>4</sup>, specifically those found on pages 296-320. All papers must be word-processed in Times New Roman 12-point font. Students are expected to follow rules of usage and principles of composition<sup>5</sup>. When the two resources listed in the footnote below present differing rules, students are to adhere to the academic writing guidelines in the APA Manual.

Plagiarism. Where appropriate, references to professional and research literature need to be integrated into the text and cited at the end of all papers. According to UK rules, the minimum consequence for cheating or plagiarism is an "E" in the course. Cheating or plagiarism is basically stealing ideas or intellectual property created by others. Students are cautioned to reference all resources properly: The mere re-phrasing of another author's work does not excuse the student from the requirement for including proper citations. Cite all your sources accurately and appropriately! Be aware that re-cycling of assignments from other courses can be interpreted as self-plagiarizing and fails to meet the minimal standards of intellectual rigor required in graduate study.

Late Submittals. Assignment due dates are provided in the course calendar (p. 10). Unless specified differently in the assignment guidelines, each written assignment is to be delivered me as an attachment to an e-mail message addressed to kellie.terry@uky.edu and sent no later than 10:00 AM on the due date. Late assignments will be accepted only in cases of extreme emergencies, and the decision to accept late work is solely at my discretion.

Incomplete Grade. Incomplete grades for this course are issued reluctantly and sparingly. The UK Graduate School permits students one calendar year—unless a shorter time frame is determined mutually by the student and instructor—to remove an “I” grade. If the contracted work is not completed satisfactorily, the “I” grade converts automatically to an “E” (a failing mark). UK and EDL rules require students requesting an “I” grade to complete a contract specifying how and when the “I” will be removed within the calendar year. The contract must be submitted to me before an “I” grade can be issued. Incomplete work and missing assignments will be assigned “E” grades if the student does not submit a completed Incomplete Grade Contract by the course deadline.

Student Responsibilities

Graduate students assume major responsibility for their own learning. As members of a learning group, they are likewise responsible for helping their peers by consulting with them and engaging in collaborative problem solving before seeking assistance from me. A class roster will be posted in the course Blackboard site to encourage and support communication.

Course Requirements and Expectations

Unless specified otherwise, all assignments must be submitted to me electronically as an attachment to an e-mail message or posted on Blackboard no later than 10:00 AM on the due date. Guidelines for course assignments will be posted on the course Blackboard.

1. PAR Reflective Journal Entries. Students will write reflections in response to prompts provided by the instructor, related to development of their PAR projects. Reflections should be one page in length, double-spaced. There are two journal entries, each worth 2.5 points.
2. PAR Team Mid-Project Surveys/Analysis. To assess progress of PAR projects, students will create a survey and administer it to PAR team members and stakeholders. Survey data will be collected, analyzed, and reported via graphic displays and narrative analysis.
3. Oral Presentation of Mid-Project Report. Students will present an in-class oral report of PAR project progress, gathering feedback from their colleagues and using it to inform continued implementation and monitoring of PAR projects.
4. Mini-literature Review. Students will complete a two page analysis of three new articles they have read related to their PAR projects. The purpose of reviewing new literature is to assist with PAR data analysis and findings, and to inform development of a new question and cycle for the PAR project. This cycle will not be carried out or reported on this semester, but outlines the next steps for diagnosis, action, measurement, and reflection for students to continue following formal course completion.
5. Final PAR Report. Students will submit a fully developed written report of their PAR projects, including all required elements outlined by the instructor. A formal, professional tone is expected in the written proposal, with APA format required for all aspects of the report.

6. Professional Philosophy Statement: Leadership of Classroom & School-Based Research. Students will submit a one page, single-spaced describing their philosophy of leadership of classroom and school-based research. The philosophy statement should incorporate purposes, value, and critical processes for leading PAR research.
7. Class Participation. Students are expected to attend the six class meetings, actively participate in both in-class and online discussions and activities, and complete independent work as presented on the course calendar.

Grading Scale

Course grades are based on a cumulative point total. The relative weighting for each of these expectations is presented in the matrix below.

Required Assignments &amp; Participation	Points Possible
1. Reflective Journal Entries	5
2. PAR Team Mid-Project Surveys/Analysis	20
3. Oral Presentation of Mid-Project Report	10
4. Mini-literature Review (new literature)	10
5. Final PAR Report	30
6. Professional Philosophy Statement: Leadership of Classroom & School-Based Research	15
7. Class Participation	10
Total Points	100

Grades will be assigned according to the following scale: A=90-100 points, B=80-89 points, C=70-79 points, E=<70 points. Course credit: three graduate hours.

Distance Learning Form

This form must accompany every submission of a new/change course form that requests distance learning delivery. This form may be required when changing a course already approved for DL delivery. All fields are required!

Introduction/Definition: For the purposes of the Commission on Colleges Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation review, distance learning is defined as a formal educational process in which the majority of the instruction (interaction between students and instructors and among students) in a course occurs when students and instructors are not in the same place. Instruction may be synchronous or asynchronous. A distance learning (DL) course may employ correspondence study, or audio, video, or computer technologies.

A number of specific requirements are listed for DL courses. The department proposing the change in delivery method is responsible for ensuring that the requirements below are satisfied at the individual course level. It is the responsibility of the instructor to have read and understood the university-level assurances regarding an equivalent experience for students utilizing DL (available at <http://www.uky.edu/USC/New/forms.htm>).

Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc. The course is designed as a hybrid that combines classroom-based and online (Web-based) learning and teaching formats. The Distance Learning experience for students enrolled in this hybrid course is based on a cohort model and will be comparable to classroom-based instruction. The web-based, Blackboard format aligns with effective adult learning formats and include timely access to the course instructor and peers as well as feedback on reflections and assessment of assignments. The syllabus clearly explicates students' reading assignments including required textbook(s), research-based journal articles and book chapters. All assignments are aligned with stated course objectives (goals). Instructor-student interaction is comparable to classroom instructional methods. Student performance is assessed by the instructor by thorough participation in and monitoring of asynchronous, on-line interactions, observations of in-class discussions, feedback on discussion board responses (on-line), and evaluation of their assignments detailed under #1 above (see syllabus).
