Course Description

An introduction to the interior design process and creative problem solving. Class assignments and discussions focus on theories of two- and three-dimensional design, spatial definition and organization and provide a context for analyses of how design interacts with ecological, social, economic and cultural contexts. The course is comprised of daily instruction periods and weekly lectures. Weekly lectures will introduce interior design ideas, case studies and the interior design profession. Students also are introduced to concepts of design communication and teamwork structures and dynamics. Studio, lecture, Research, drawings, models, sketches, written components

Course Requirements

The course will be comprised of daily instruction sessions, practice exercises, drawing and sketching assignments, a design journal, weekly lecture attendance, and scheduled field trips. The instruction will facilitate the application of skills & design thinking to three design projects. The 3 design projects will require academic analysis, drawings, models, sketches, and writing components. Students will be given specific exercise and project requirements throughout the semester. A schedule of exercise and project dates will be attached each semester to maximize educational opportunities and course needs. In summary specific student requirements will include 3 design projects, 1-sketchbook, 3- written analysis documents, and 3- research, programming, and concept development documents.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon satisfactory completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge of the design process through research, initiative, and articulation of ideas as related to the built environment. (CIDA 6c)
- Demonstrate creative thinking and originality through presentation of a variety of ideas, approaches, and concepts. (CIDA 4e)
- Demonstrate an awareness of team work structures and dynamics. (CIDA 5a)
- Investigate the perceptual and physical nature of the built environment through the exploration of two- and three-dimensional design. (CIDA 9a, b, c)
- Effectively communicate in oral, graphic, and written formats using appropriate design vocabulary. (CIDA 6a)
- Demonstrate how social and cultural norms may vary from their own and are relevant to making appropriate design decisions. (CIDA 3a)

Course Schedule Outline: (specific schedules will be define per semester)

Weeks 7-11	Design Project 2, written analysis, concept, programming & concept
Weeks 12-16	Design Project 3, written analysis, concept, programming & concept

Policies:

Academic Integrity

The study of interior design and professional design practice relies upon active, cooperative design investigation informed by the conceptual and factual study of theory and history. Consequently, academic study and design investigation must comply with strict academic and professional standards for intellectual integrity.

In the process of academic study for this course, all assignments shall include appropriate bibliographic citations for quoted text, paraphrased ideas or concepts, and graphic images. Students are referred to the Chicago Manual of Style for standard bibliographic citation formats (UK Fine Arts Reference & Young Reference sections: Z253.U69 1993). A failure to cite quotations, paraphrases, or graphics will result in the student receiving no credit for the affected assignment. A second failure to provide appropriate citations will result in the student receiving a failing grade for the course.

Design and drawing assignments frequently require and rely upon the inclusion of images from outside sources. For this course, all assignment-required images shall be photocopied, or scanned and printed. The architecture library provides only black-and-white photocopy machines and will facilitate color photocopying of images. Under no circumstances are original images to be removed from books, periodicals, or resources within any library system. Unless the instructor can verify the source of an original image, an assignment submitted with original images will not be accepted. If a submitted assignment is found to contain original images from a library system source, the student will not receive any credit for the affected assignment. All suspicious images will be turned over the UK Library System for investigation and determination of relevant replacement fees.

Accommodations

Appropriate accommodations will be made for students who have a documented need for alterations to course policy or expectations. Students seeking accommodation shall discuss the situation with the section instructor prior to the third course session. The instructor will require documentation from the Disability Resources Center or appropriate authority.

Attendance

Students are required to be physically present with appropriate supplies during all sessions (lecture and studio) of the course. Instructor-student, student-student, and student-group interactions are essential for the design learning experience. During regular course instruction and critiques, instructor guidance and peer feedback enriches students' continued skill development. Outside of regular course hours, the studio atmosphere provides a unique, informal educational culture that promotes intellectual curiosity, fosters respect, supports educational discovery, and promotes student-to-student critique and evaluation.

A student who does not have appropriate supplies for regular course sessions will be marked absent. Each student shall have her or his design journal and drawing media for each course session.

Unless otherwise indicated, students are expected to remain for the entire scheduled class session. Students are expected to work on assigned exercises and projects during course time. The section instructor, at her or his discretion, may not accept work submitted for grading that the instructor has not seen developed in class.

Attendance will be taken during each course session.

- Partial absence from a course session will be recorded as an absence or 'tardy' at the instructor's discretion. In general, a 'tardy' will be considered as the late arrival for any course session.
- Three tardy arrivals will be considered the same as one absence.
- Three unexcused absences will result in a one letter-grade reduction of the student's final grade (i.e.: An 'A' reduced to 'B'). There will be two excused absences (with proper documentation) for the semester. With the third absence from studio or lecture, letter grade reductions will begin.
- Per University Senate Rule 5.2.4.1, any student missing more than one-fifth (1/5) of the scheduled course sessions (excused and unexcused) will be asked to withdraw from the course. For this course, one-fifth of the scheduled course sessions shall be eleven (11) absences (44 studios + 13 lectures = 57 sessions x 1/5 = 11.4 sessions).

University Senate Rule 5.2.4.2 defines acceptable excused absences as:

- Serious illness (physician's note required);
- Illness or death of family member;
- University-related trips;
- Major religious holidays;
- Other circumstances [that the instructor] finds to be "reasonable cause for nonattendance."

Students who will be unable to attend class—for any reason—should contact the section instructor by email or phone message prior to the absence. Students will be responsible for providing written verification for any excused absences to the session instructor.

Policies Related to GRADING

Throughout the term, grades will be assigned to completed course work. The course will require exercises, sketchbooks, a preliminary project, and an in depth design project. All assignments shall receive letter grades or an equivalent numeric score. Assigned grades may include oral or written comments.

Numeric scores will be recorded as a decimal number out of five (5) to ten (10) possible points. Letter grades will be recorded as 'A,' 'B,' 'C,' 'D,' or 'E.' Letter grades may include 'plus' or 'minus' designations at the instructors' discretion.

All students completing a group design or analysis project will receive equal credit for the work completed by the group.

Letter grades shall be understood to represent:

A – Assigned to work completed substantially above the final expectation for the studio level. Work represents exceptional integration of design issues in relation to the design problem. Work relies upon both consideration of relevant analysis and original design ideas to jointly support design decisions. (U.S.R. 5.1.1: "Represents an exceptionally high achievement as a result of aptitude, effort and intellectual initiative.")

B – Assigned to work completed above the final expectation for the studio level. Work demonstrates strong integration of design issues in relation to the design problem. Work shows consideration of relevant analysis to support design decisions. (U.S.R. 5.1.1: "Represents a high achievement as a result of ability and effort.")

C – Assigned to work completed at the average expectation for the studio level. Work represents good (or basic) integration of design issues. Work does not exhibit significant or strong solutions to design criteria or analysis. (U.S.R. 5.1.1: "Represents satisfactory achievement for undergraduates.")

D – Assigned to work completed below average expectations for the studio level. Work demonstrates potential to improve at least one grade level in regards to integration of design issues. While one aspect of the work may be average, strong, or exceptional, the overall work does not illustrate a comprehensive understanding of design issues. Work may rely solely upon student talent or preferences without consideration of academic design issues. (U.S.R. 5.1.1: "Represents unsatisfactory achievement and is the minimum grade for which credit is given.")

E – Assigned to work that fails to demonstrate understanding or recognition of design issues. Work does not exhibit the potential to improve to average expectations. (U.S.R. 5.1.1: "Represents unsatisfactory performance and indicates failure in the course.")

For the purposes of final grade calculations, letter grades shall be translated as follows (out of ten points):

12 A+	9 B+	6 C+	3 D+
11 A	8 B	5 C	2 D
10 A-	7 B-	4 C-	1 D-	0 E

When calculating final grades the sum total of the parts with a fraction greater than .5 will be automatically rounded up to the higher letter grade and final grades will not reflect plus and minus.

Unless previous arrangements have been made with the section instructor, late assignments will not be accepted. Approved late assignments will receive the equivalent of a one-letter grade deduction per calendar day late. (On the numeric scale, a one-letter grade deduction will equal the corresponding point deduction.) Assignments submitted late, as the result of an excused absence, will not be penalized.

All grades and scores will consider the completion of the stated assignment objectives and requirements, design analysis considerations, and the execution of the submitted assignment. While the exercises and projects that comprise this course can be technically completed to earn credit, mere completion of an assignment does not constitute the minimum qualification for receiving a satisfactory grade. The individual time commitment necessary to achieve an appropriate level of completion will vary by student, and by assignment throughout the term.

Per University Senate Rule 5.1.0.1, students will be informed of their current standing before the midterm withdrawal date. For Fall 2010, the last day to withdraw from a course without it appearing on the student's transcript is September 15 or by November 5 with an approved withdrawal.

Please Note:

1. Late projects will not be accepted for grading unless an arrangement has been made with the instructor one week before the project is due.
2. Incomplete projects which are submitted as fulfillment for project requirements will not be graded.
3. Students are expected to communicate professionally in project critiques without the use of slang or incorrect grammar.
4. The readings are supplemental information to lectures, in-class discussions, and project information. Students are responsible for applying the information from the readings to their project solutions. Final grades for this course will be determined using a composite of assignment grades and recorded course attendance. Specifically, the final grade calculations will weight assignment grades as follows:

3- Design projects equally weighted	40%
3-Research, Programming & Concept development	30%
1-Sketchbook	15%
3-Written analysis	15%

Per University Senate Rules, final course grades will not include 'plus' or 'minus' designations. Final grade deductions based upon the attendance policy will be considered after preliminary final grades have been calculated.
