4. Are significant changes in content/student learning outcomes of the course being proposed? No

If YES, explain and offer brief rationale: The faculty voted to approve a credit-only change to the courses in the Law Catalog that act as a holding place for our provisional ("experimental") courses, Law 900-909, on April 28th, 2016. The reason this vote was necessary is that during the May 14, 2015 faculty meeting, the faculty approved a new course called Foreign and International Legal Research that was proposed and approved as a 1 credit course. The snag was that the UK Registrar's system will not accommodate anything other than a 2-3 credit experimental course, because Law 900-909 were approved years ago to accommodate 2-3 credit courses. This means that Law 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, and 909 will be variable from 1-4 credits, rather than the current 2-3 credits. Nothing substantive about the courses that are currently enumerated in Law 900-909 will change. Finally, because we now have a fall advanced research course and a spring advanced research course approved for registration at 1 credit hour, I request that this change be implemented as quickly as possible for Law 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, and 909. Please see the attached memorandum for a little more information.

1. How does this course provide for timely and appropriate interaction between students and faculty and among students? Does the course syllabus conform to University Senate Syllabus Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations?

2. How do you ensure that the experience for a DL student is comparable to that of a classroom-based student's experience? Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc.

3. How is the integrity of student work ensured? Please speak to aspects such as password-protected course portals, proctors for exams at interactive video sites; academic offense policy; etc.

4. Will offering this course via DL result in at least 25% or at least 50% (based on total credit hours required for completion) of a degree program being offered via any form of DL, as defined above?

If yes, which percentage, and which program(s)?

5. How are students taking the course via DL assured of equivalent access to student services, similar to that of a student taking the class in a traditional classroom setting?

6. How do course requirements ensure that students make appropriate use of learning resources?

7. Please explain specifically how access is provided to laboratories, facilities, and equipment appropriate to the course or program.

8. How are students informed of procedures for resolving technical complaints? Does the syllabus list the entities available to offer technical help with the delivery and/or receipt of the course, such as the Information Technology Customer Service Center (<http://www.uky.edu/UKIT/>)?

9. Will the course be delivered via services available through the Distance Learning Program (DLP) and the Academic Technology Group (ATL)? NO

If no, explain how student enrolled in DL courses are able to use the technology employed, as well as how students will be provided with assistance in using said technology.

10. Does the syllabus contain all the required components? NO

11. I, the instructor of record, have read and understood all of the university-level statements regarding DL.

⁴Removing a cross-listing does not drop the other course – it merely unlinks the two courses.

⁵Generally, undergrad courses are developed such that one semester hr of credit represents 1 hr of classroom meeting per wk for a semester, exclusive of any lab meeting. Lab meeting gene least two hrs per wk for a semester for 1 credit hour. (See SR 5.2.1.)

⁶You must also submit the Distance Learning Form in order for the course to be considered for DL delivery.

⁷In order to change a program, a program change form must also be submitted.

Re: Credit-Only Change to “Experimental” Law Courses

The faculty voted to approve a credit-only change to the courses in the Law Catalog that act as a holding place for our provisional (“experimental”) courses, Law 900-909, on April 28th, 2016. The reason this vote was necessary is that during the May 14, 2015 faculty meeting, the faculty approved a new course called Foreign and International Legal Research that was proposed and approved as a 1 credit course. The snag was that the UK Registrar’s system will not accommodate anything other than a 2-3 credit experimental course, because Law 900-909 were approved years ago to accommodate 2-3 credit courses.

To be clear, the only change we request is for the Law 900-909 grouping to have an expanded number of credits that are possible for an experimental course at the College of Law. In other words, I request that the number of credits be expanded to a range of 1-4, given that both 1 and 4 credit courses will likely be proposed in the near future (and given that existing law courses range from 1-4 credits). This means that Law 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, and 909 will be variable from 1-4 credits, rather than the current 2-3 credits. Nothing substantive about the courses that are currently enumerated in Law 900-909 will change.

Finally, because we now have a fall advanced research course and a spring advanced research course approved for registration at 1 credit hour, I request that this change be implemented as quickly as possible for Law 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, and 909.

Please let me know what questions you have.
