SOC 302 and SOC 304

Current Total Hours: 21

Proposed Total Hours: 21

Rationale for Proposal: Department faculty approved this change because PSY 215 is Experimental Psychology and experiments are rarely used in sociological research. Our research methods course (SOC 302) focuses on survey, interviewing, and participant observation methods which are used by most sociologists today. Thus, a course in experimental research design is not equivalent to SOC 302. This change is a minor one which will not significantly change the structure of our minor.
